THE HOME GOLD CURE.

An Ingenious Treatment by Which Drunkards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves.

No Noxious Doses—No Weakening of the Nerves—A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liquor Habit.

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a disease and not weakness. A body filled with poison, and nerves completely shattered by periodical or constant use of intoxicating liquors, requires an antidote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poison, and destroying the craving for intoxicants. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonderful "HOME GOLD CURE" which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

WIVES CURE YOUR HUSBANDS!! CHILDREN CURE YOUR FATHERS!! This remedy is in no senes a nostrum but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of Drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the "CURE" administered by loving friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe today that they discontinued drinking of their own free will. DO NOT WAIT. Do not be deluded by apparent and misleading "improvement." Drive out the disease at once and for all time. "The HOME GOLD CURE" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, thus placing within reach of everybody a treatment more effectual than others costing $25 to $50. Full directions accompany each package. Special advice by skilled physicians when requested without extra charge. Sent prepaid to any part of the world on receipt of One Dollar. Address Dept. E 428, EDWIN B. GILES & COMPANY, 2330 and 2332 Marstreet, Philadelphia.

SOME LOST SECRETS.

FAMOUS PROCESSES THAT WERE KNOWN TO THE ANCIENTS.

Things That Our Forefathers Were Able to Do That We Now Find Well Nigh Impossible—Cement of the Greeks and Romans.

Taking into consideration the marvelous strides we have made in almost every branch of knowledge during the last 200 or 300 years, it seems exceedingly strange that our forefathers should have been able to do things which we find impossible and that we cannot discover secrets which were almost common knowledge hundreds of years ago. But despite the fact that the average modern man knows more than did the learned men of long ago, there are mysteries of knowledge and science which our most advanced scientists cannot solve.

Thousands of years ago, for instance, the Egyptians used to embalm the bodies of their dead kings and nobility so perfectly that the bodies are in wonderful preservation today, as may be seen at the British museum. Clever as we are in this age, we cannot do the same. The valuable secret is lost and modern science cannot recover the lost knowledge. We can, of course, and we do embalm bodies, but only for temporary preservation and, comparatively speaking, in a most unsatisfactory manner. Bodies which are embalmed nowadays will not be preserved for more than a few days at most. Very many of the bodies the Egyptians embalmed before the birth of Christ are still so perfect that the lines of their faces are still as clearly marked as when they were first embalmed.

Sheffield turns out the finest, hardest and most perfect steel the world produces, but even Sheffield cannot produce a sword blade to compare with those the Saracens made and used hundreds of years ago, and the Saracens never possessed the machinery we have or had the advantage of knowing so much about metals as we are supposed to know. A huge fortune awaits the man who discovers the secret which enabled the Saracens to make sword blades so keen and hard that they could cut in two most of the swords used today.

There are a dozen different methods of making artificial diamonds, but none of the stones produced by these methods can compare with those made of old French paste, the secret of which is lost. So perfect were paste diamonds that it was difficult for even a person with expert knowledge of diamonds to tell that they were artificially produced, whereas most of the modern artificial diamonds can easily be detected, and their durability is nothing like so great as the old paste diamonds.

Probably not one out of every ten thousand buildings standing in all parts of the world, and built by modern masons, will still be standing 500 years hence. We do not know how to put stones and bricks together as the ancients did, and consequently the buildings we raise nowadays are really mere temporary structures and will be in ruins when the ancient buildings of Greece and Italy, which were built thousands of years ago, are in as good condition as they are now. The secret is not in the bricks or the stone, but in the cement and mortar, neither of which essentials can we make as the ancients made them.

In modern buildings the cement and mortar are the weakest points; in buildings which the Romans and Greeks raised thousands of years ago the cement and mortar are the strongest points and hold good while the very stones they bind together crumble away with age. We cannot, with all our science, make such cement and mortar, and therefore we cannot build such buildings as the ancients raised.

Chemistry, one might imagine, is the science which has, perhaps, made the greatest strides. Yet modern chemists cannot compound such dyes as were commonly used when the great nations of today were still unborn. Now and again it happens that searchers after antiquities come across fragments of fabrics which were dyed thousands of years ago, and they are astonished by the wonderful richness of the colors of the cloths, which, despite their age, are brighter and purer than anything we can produce.

Modern artists buy their colors ready made and spend large sums on pigments with which to color their canvases. The pictures of modern artists will be colorless when many of the works of ancient masters are as bright as they are today. Just as the secret of dyeing has been lost, so has the secret of preserving the colors of artists' paints. Yet the secret was known to every ancient artist, for they all mixed their own colors.

How to make durable ink is another great secret we have lost. Look at any letter five or ten years old and you will probably notice that the writing has faded to a brown color and is very indistinct. Go to any big museum and you will find ancient MSS., the writing of which is as black and distinct as if the MSS. were written the day before yesterday.

The secret of glass blowing and tinting is not yet entirely lost. There are still a few men who can produce glass work equal to the things of this kind which the ancients turned out hundreds of years ago. But the average glass manufacturer cannot produce anything that could at all compare with some of the commoner articles the Egyptians, and later, the founders of Venice, manufactured, and those who still hold the ancient secret guard it so closely that it will probably die with them and be added to the long list of things in which our ancestors beat us hollow.—Exchange.

CAPITAL TEN PERCENTERS.

Government Clerks Who Lend to Their Fellow Workers.

"I reckon I'll sell my salary this month," remarked the young census clerk.

"To whom?" asked his friend.

"Why, to one of the ten percenters, of course," was the reply.

Dialogues such as this are of frequent occurrence between government clerks in Washington toward the end of the month. When a clerk sells his salary to a ten percenter, he gives the latter an I O U for the entire salary due him on the following pay day and receives in exchange 90 per cent of the amount. The man who makes the loan retains the remaining 10 per cent, whence his name of ten percenter.

The ten percenter is said to exist under one name or another in all of the great federal department buildings in Washington. He is invariably a shrewd government clerk who has a bit of money of his own or has saved his salary until its accumulation represents a tidy little sum. This capital he is ever ready to lend in sums of from $10 to $100.

In a majority of the Washington offices the laws against usurers are so rigorously enforced that the ten percenter is unable to transact business in safety as an individual; he exists nevertheless under the protecting title of a beneficial society. These fake societies should not be confused with the mutual beneficiary organizations which have been established for a number of years in many of the departments, notably the government printing office, for the purpose of aiding sick or disabled members and their families and of burying the dead. The ten percenters' society never includes more than five or six members. They have their charter and a carefully drawn constitution and bylaws.

Each member contributes a certain amount of money to the funds of the concern, and the other employees of the office are quietly informed how they can be accommodated with a loan for a small bonus. On the first of every month the pool divides its profits. These organizations are usually short lived, as they become unpopular when the business begins to grow large. The death of one fake association is rapidly followed by the birth of a successor, differing from its predecessor in name only, so that the ten percenters are enabled to ply their trade without much interruption.—New York Sun.

SCRAPS OF SCIENCE.

A scientist who has made a study of the planet declares that there is snow on the moon.

There are 28 pounds of blood in the body of an average grown up person, and at each pulsation the heart moves 10 pounds.

While cyclones and tornadoes are different phenomena, the former appear to give rise to the latter. Tornadoes almost always break out, if at all, on the southeasterly outskirts of a cyclone.

A period of 5 seconds between a flash of lightning and thunder means that the flash is a mile distant from the observer. Thunder has never been heard over 15 miles from the flash, though artillery has been heard 120 miles.

Sir Robert Ball asserted that every 100 years the sun loses 5 miles of its diameter. To allay anxiety, however, he mentioned that the diameter of the sun is 860,000 miles and that 40,000 years hence the diameter would still be 858,000 miles.

When a Man Can See 200 Miles.

About 200 miles in every direction is the distance a man can see when standing, on a clear day, on the peak of the highest mountain—say, at a height of 26,668 feet, or a little over five miles above the level of the sea. An observer must be at a height of 6,667 feet above sea level to see objects at a distance of 100 miles. The distance in miles at which an object upon the surface of the earth is visible is equal to the square root of one and a half times the height of the observer in feet above the sea level.

Some allowance has to be made for the effect of atmospheric refraction, but as the refraction varies at different heights and is affected by the various states of the weather no precisely accurate figures for general purposes can be given. Probably one-fourteenth to one-tenth of the distance given by the formula would have to be deducted, owing to the refraction of the atmosphere.

General Lee's Answer.

After the surrender of Appomattox, General Wise came riding down the road furiously to where General Lee and his staff were grouped. He was splashed with mud from head to heels, and there were great splotches of mud dried and caked upon his face. Addressing General Lee, he asked in a theatrical voice, "Is it true, General Lee, that you have surrendered?"

"Yes, General Wise, it is true."

"I wish, then, to ask you one question, What is going to become of my brigade, General Lee, and what is going to become of me?"

General Lee looked at the splashed warrior for a full minute and then said calmly and in a low tone, "General Wise, go and wash your face."

Domestic Difference.

Mrs. Enpeck—James, you are good on language. What is the difference between exported and transported?

Mr. Enpeck—Why, my dear, if you should go to England, you would be exported, and I—well, I would be transported.—Sunny South.

The Kongo is one of the widest waterways on the globe, if not the finest. In some parts it is so wide that vessels may pass one another and yet be out of sight.

Best Butter In the World.

The butter of Denmark is considered superior to that of all other countries. It brings the highest price in fancy markets and can be found all over the world in shops where luxuries are sold. In South America, South Africa, in the East and West Indies, in India, Egypt and in tropical countries generally it is used by epicures, who pay $1 a pound for it in tins of one, two and three pounds' weight. No other country has been able to produce butter that will stand changes of climate so well.

Refrigerator ships are now found on nearly all the big steamship routes, and they can carry perishables as long and as far as necessary, but butter shipped by the ordinary cargo steamer usually melts and remains in a liquid state as long as it is exposed to the tropic heat. When it passes into the temperate zone again, it hardens, and the change usually spoils it for the taste, entirely destroying the flavor and leaving it like ordinary grease or oil. The Danes, however, produce a butter which will endure this ordeal without affecting its flavor or sweetness, and they are the only people of whom this may be said.—Chicago Herald.

"De Choppin."

"Speakin 'bout partnerships," said Moses, with a solemn shake of the head—"speakin 'bout partnerships wid a white man, I'ze had one an don't want no mo'. One time Kurnel Dawson dun cums ober to my cabin wid a bland smile on his face an shakes hands wid me an says:

"'Moses, let's yo' an me go into partnership in de wood bizness. Yo's a powerful hand to chop, an I'ze a powerful hand to sell cord wood.'

"'Pears like a mighty good thing to me, an I goes at it an cuts 30 cords of wood. Bimeby I goes down to de kurnel fur my sheer ob de money, an he smiles an shakes hands an says:

"'I'ze got it all figgered out, Moses. In de fust place, I purvided de timber. In de next place, I purvided de ax. Den I sent my mewls to draw de wood, an I spent my time to sell it. Dat 'pears to take in de hull ob de case.'

"'But whar does de choppin cum in?' I says.

"'De choppin?' Oh, dat was exercise an don't count!"—New York Sun.

The Destructive Porpoise.

Seeing that an ordinary porpoise is from five to six feet in length and will require some 500 ordinary mackerel or their equivalent per week to keep it in fair condition—and there cannot be less than from 20,000 to 30,000 of these creatures living in British and Irish waters—the drain upon the shoals of mackerel living in these seas from this source alone must be enormous, for if these creatures only feed on them one-half of the year about 400,000,000 mackerel must be destroyed without man or beast receiving any equivalent. These animals are not easily taken in hand, being so intelligent and active. I believe I am safe in saying there were extensive fisheries carried on for them in the sixteenth century at St. Mawes and Fowey, Cornwall, and in most of the narrow harbors of Britain, their flesh being highly valued by the gentry in those days, but now nothing of them is appropriated to man's use in England.—Contemporary Review.

How Sponges Are Sold.

When offered for sale in the local market in the Bahamas, sponges are either piled up loose or made into strands or beads of from two to ten sponges each. The best sponges are usually made into strings of from eight to ten sponges each. Others are generally sold in lots not strung. The buyer, however, is not guided in his purchase by the number of sponges on a string, but by what a certain lot will weigh, and the weight is never given, but the buyer must estimate it; hence practical experience is needed in the purchasing of sponges.

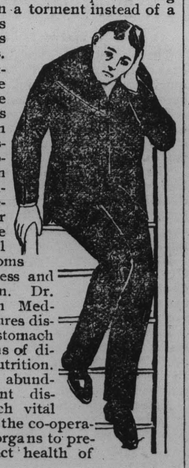
AT THE TOP.

It is a laudable ambition to reach the top of the ladder of success. But many a man who reaches the topmost rung finds his position a torment instead of a triumph. He has sacrificed his health to success.



A man can succeed and be strong if he heeds Nature's warnings. When there is indigestion, loss of appetite, ringing in the ears, dizziness, spots before the eyes or palpitation of the heart; any or all of these symptoms point to weakness and loss of nutrition. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. By perfect and abundant nourishment distributed to each vital organ it enables the co-operation of all the organs to preserve the perfect health of the body.

"For about two years I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Secord, Esq., of 13 Eastern Ave., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a great number of remedies without success. I finally lost faith in them all. I was so far gone that I could not bear any solid food in my stomach for a long time; felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep nor follow my occupation. Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three bottles and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

THE twenty-sixth State Convention of Fruit Growers of California will convene at San Francisco in Pioneer Hall on Tuesday, December 3d. The convention will be held under the auspices of the State Board of Horticulture and will continue in session four days. A cordial invitation is extended to all fruit-growers to attend and take part in the proceedings. The Southern Pacific Company will issue excursion tickets to all persons going to the convention and returning at reduced rates from all points on its lines.

GENTLE showers of rain fell throughout the valley yesterday morning. The season, with its October and November rains, which have been interspersed with warm sunny weather, has opened most auspiciously for the farmer and dairyman. Plowing is well under way and the wild grasses are coming up in the pasture fields, ensuring good feed for stock earlier this season than usual. The vintage season is over and in a number of vineyards pruning has already commenced.

R. M. DAGGETT, a pioneer newspaper man of California, died in San Francisco Tuesday. He was one of the founders of the Golden Era, a San Francisco literary paper, with which he was connected from 1852 to 1860. Shortly after severing his connection with the paper he drifted over into the State of Nevada, entered into politics and held a number of positions of public trust. He was also a member of Congress and a Presidential Elector from the Sagebrush State. Mrs. Ross Campbell of Santa Rosa is a daughter of deceased.

SIERRA MADRE, a small town located near Pasadena, was the scene of an unusual occurrence one day last week. The town is the winter home of a few wealthy Eastern people. Twenty young society ladies invited an equal number of young gentlemen to hoe weeds out of the principal streets, promising a grand treat. The young gentlemen failed to appear at the date set, so the young ladies hoed the weeds, piled them up to dry and themselves ate the picnic luncheon which they had prepared.

SANTA ROSA'S expectoration ordinance goes into effect next Monday. Hereafter Sonoma people having a tendency to spit should have a care when visiting the county seat as expectorating on the sidewalk or on the floors of public buildings will subject them to a fine or imprisonment.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.

THE OBSERVER.

HOW HUMANITY MAY BE AMUSED.

Amusement plays no small part in a person's life. "Business before pleasure" is the motto of every successful man, but no one does more work than he has to. A man strives to make the most money in the shortest time and in the easiest way. Work means money and money means amusement. Work is usually a means to an end. All men work for what money can buy. Some men work for money. A few men work for fame, but these are generally in the minority unless the almighty dollar is somewhere in sight. Life then is a striving after money. If you are not trying to get money from some one, then some one is trying to get money out of you. After a man has enough for the necessaries of life he invests the surplus in various ways. Watch his investments after these necessities have been satisfied and you can tell what amuses him. The banking of money is a pleasure to some men—the shining ducats gladdens their hearts and thrills them more than some of you music lovers are thrilled when you hear Wagner. The spending of money is the joy of other men. These are not the spendthrifts for wasting money is a weakness—it is involuntary generosity. The man who spends his money for amusement and does it involuntary—this is the man I mean. He believes that life is made up of business and pleasure and acts accordingly. He may indulge in good clothes, good living, opera, horses, prize fights or anything else in the luxury line, but he never forgets that business comes first—that it is the real fund of all his pleasure. This class of humanity is the happiest.

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." The poor working man often realizes this and although in the smallest way he often manages to take some time for amusement. Life is worth the living when we get just a little bit more out of it than a living.

As man has different tastes in the field of art, letters, science and mechanics, so has he in the field of amusement. It is not generally a question of what a mere surplus can buy. It is a question of what he wants to buy. And here comes the difference in tastes, the diversity of which makes the business current more swift and its course so varied. In San Francisco last night there was grand opera for some and a prize fight for others—surely a marked antithesis, but a good example of what humanity demands. Both are forms of amusement—one high the other low—but each a fair representation of the wishes of men who had surplus to invest after their own fashion.

"Most interesting to us is the remarkable series of planetary conjunctions which happen later this month, when the three brightest planets will be close together in the evening sky," writes Henry Norris Ruesel in the Scientific American of the 2d inst.

"Jupiter has for months been slowly overtaking Saturn, and just before he reaches him, Venus, whose eastward motion is much swifter, catches up with them both. She passes Jupiter on the night of the 17th, and Saturn on that of the 18th. The two are about a degree apart, while she is three degrees south of them, so that all three planets are crowded into a space no larger than the belt of Orion. The group which they form will be by far the most conspicious thing in the evening sky, and will remain in sight for two hours and a half after sunset.

"Though these three heavenly bodies seem so near together, their real distances from us are, of course, vastly different. Venus is very much the nearest, being but 74 000,000 miles distant. Jupiter is more than seven times as far away, his distance being 450,000,000 miles. Finally, Saturn is almost 1,000,000,000 miles from us—as far beyond Jupiter as Jupiter is beyond Venus.

"Such a conjunction as the one which we now have the privilege of viewing is a rare occurrence. Jupiter revolves around the sun in twelve years, and Saturn in thirty. Twelve years hence, Jupiter will be in the same part of the sky as at present, but Saturn will have gone nearly half way round, and will still be ahead of Jupiter. It will take the latter twenty years in all to catch up with Saturn again, in which time he makes one and two-thirds revolutions to Saturn's two-thirds. So it will not be till 1921 that we will see Jupiter and Saturn close together again, and such conjunctions will recur every twenty years. But the two planets, when closest, may be in any part of the zodiac. Now, since Venus never goes more than about 45 deg. away from the sun, if they are more than that distance from him, they cannot be near Venus. If they are to be visible in the evening they must be east of the sun, and at least 15 deg. from him. This narrows down the region within which a conjunction like the present one is possible to about 30 deg., or one-twelfth of the whole circumference. It follows that, on the average, one conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn out of twelve will be such that an event like the present may possibly happen. But when such a conjunction occurs, Venus may not be in such a part of her orbit that she actually does come into conjunction with the others. There is only one chance in five or six that she will be. Therefore, on the average, only one out of sixty or seventy conjunctions of Jupiter and Saturn will be marked by the presence of Venus also. That is, such a display as occurs this month will happen, in the long run, once in about twelve hundred years. The actual intervals between two such conjunctions are very variable, some being much longer than the average, and some much shorter."

RIGHT UP TO DATE.

(Benson's Plaster is Pain's Master.)

These are days of records and of the beating of records. Benson's Porous Plaster, for quickness of action and thoroughness of cure, has no records to beat except its own.

Benson's Plaster, always the best, always the leader, is to-day better than ever. It sticks to the skin but never sticks in its tracks. It marches on.

The people not only want to be cured but cured quickly—and Benson's Plaster does it. Coughs, colds, lumbago, asthma, bronchitis, liver and kidney complaints, and other ills approachable by an external remedy, yield to Benson's as ice does to heat.

Neither Belladonna, Strengthening or Capsicum plasters are to be compared with Benson's. People who have once tested the merits of Benson's Plaste have no use for any other external remedy.

More than 5,000 physicians and druggists (and a thousand times as many non-professional persons) have called Benson's Plasters one of the few (!) home remedies that can be trusted.

Fifty-five highest awards have been made to it in competition with the best known plasters of Europe and America. Better proof of its merits is inconceivable. Be sure to get the genuine.

For sale by all druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States, on receipt of 25c. each.

THE CHEERFUL IDIOT

And the Glum Dyspeptic.

The cheerful idiot is the individual who when he sees you come into the house dripping from the storm inquires pleasantly, "Is it raining?" If you were whittling and the knife slipped and cut off the top of a finger he would say just as pleasantly, "Did you cut yourself?" It seems the chief business in the life of the cheerful idiot to ask fool questions. Mostly people put up with him as they do with mosquitoes—because they can't help themselves. But once in a while the cheerful idiot runs up against the wrong man. It was that way when the C. I. of the boarding house tackled a miserable looking fellow-boarder who was tortured by dyspepsia. "Hello Smith," he cried, "aren't you feeling well?" And Smith growled back: "It's none of your business how I'm feeling."

Talk about adding insult to injury! What could be any worse than asking a man who had suffering stamped all over him, "Aren't you feeling well?"

It's rather hard for the dyspeptic to make a stranger to the disease understand just how much suffering dyspepsia can cause. Words don't express it. That terrible gnawing sensation in the stomach is past description. Even after you have recited the specific aches and pains there are no terms to express the cumulative and combined effects of them all upon both mind and body.

DON'T CULTIVATE DYSPEPSIA.

That would seem unnecessary advice, yet it is a fact that in the main, people who finally become dyspeptics seem to have studied how quickest to bring on the disease. They eat irregularly. They eat unwholesome or innutritious foods. They eat heartily when they are tired with a day's work and the stomach needs rest instead of exercise. In fact if they made a study of the quickest way to dyspepsia or disease of the stomach in general and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition, they could not practice more successful methods.

When dyspepsia once has its grip on the stomach the man who has experimented with tablets and powders and other palliatives without permanent relief finds himself asking the question, "Am I ever going to be well again so that I can eat with appetite and enjoyment?"

The one necessity to the recovery of health is the cure of the diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Tablets of soda, mint, etc., will for the moment alter the condition in the stomach, but they won't alter the condition of the stomach itself. These things are therefore merely palliatives. Not only do they not cure but by affording temporary relief they lull the victim into a false security until he probably finds himself some day very much worse for their use.

HOW DYSPEPSIA IS CURED.

There is an almost certain cure for dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery always helps and almost always cures. In ninety-eight per cent. of cases in which the "Discovery" has been given a fair and faithful trial it has wrought a perfect and permanent cure. It has cured the most severe and obstinate conditions of stomach trouble which have failed to yield to any other medicine.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the Irish Comedian and Mimic of 577 Royden Street, Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it till last week while playing at B. F. Keath's Bijou Theatre, Philadelphia, in the Nelson Trio, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results."

"For three years I suffered untold agony," writes Mrs. H. R. White, of Stanstead, Stanstead Co., Quebec (Box 115). "I would have spells of trembling and being sick at my stomach, pain in right side all the time; then it would work up into my stomach, and—such distress it is impossible to describe. I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, stating my case to them, and they very promptly answered and told me what to do. I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Thanks to Dr. Pierce and his medicine I am a well woman to-day. Dr. Pierce's medicines also cured my mother of liver complaint from which she had been a sufferer for fifteen years. We highly recommend these medicines to all suffering people."

Diseases which seem to be remote from the stomach, but which originate in the stomach are cured through the stomach. For this reason diseases of heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, and other organs are cured by "Golden Medical Discovery," when it has cured the disease of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition.

It has been a surprise to many people who have taken "Golden Medical Discovery" for stomach "trouble," to find that as the stomach was cured, diseases of long standing which had affected other organs were cured also. The "weak" heart becomes strong, the sluggish liver active, the clogged kidneys are cleansed, the lungs made sound. The whole body is practically renewed, built up with firm, healthy flesh, and not puffed up with flabby fat.

Some dealers desiring to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines will sometimes offer the customer a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," claiming it to be "just as good." Nothing is just as good for you which has not just as good a record of cures, and no other medicine has a record of cures comparable with those effected by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

ALL CASES OF

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

BALTIMORE, Md., March 30, 1901.

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours,

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

UNCLE SMALL.

The Octogenarian Said to Be Dying.

Uncle Small, father of Joe B. and Jas. B. Small of this place, is reported to be dying at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Agnes Cowan of Bennett Valley.

The old gentleman, who has passed the eighty-second milestone in the journey through life, has been suffering from an abscess which gave him great pain. Several weeks ago, after an extended visit with his relatives here, he returned to his daughter's home in Bennett Valley. Recently his sufferings became so intense it was decided to remove the abscess. Relief followed, but his extreme old age and enfeebled condition have been against him and he continued to grow weaker instead of stronger and his physician, Dr. Crepin of Glen Ellen, has despaired of his patient's recovery.

Uncle Small is a pioneer resident of this valley and for years the old gentleman has been a familiar figure on our streets.

Petaluma Moonshiners.

John A. McCabe, special revenue agent, and Walter F. Price, Deputy Internal Revenue Collector, were in Petaluma Monday investigating alleged violations of the revenue laws, says the Repnblican of Santa Rosa. When approached relative to the matter Mr. Price announced that he could give out no information. He acknowledged that irregularities were being investigated but would say no more.

From private sources, however, it was learned that two offenders are under the ban, one, George Greiss, the brewer, and the other L. Solari, a winemaker. Mr. Greiss' offense is the improper cancellation of revenue stamps and the use of the same more than once.

The second offender is charged with selling wine in wholesale quantities, though holding only a retailer's license. His penalty is $250. This is said to be Mr. Solari's second offense. On a previous occasion he informed upon another Petaluma firm in which upon investigation he was found to have an interest, and the penalty fell upon him equally with his partner.

It is rumored that the California Hot Springs have been sold and will change hands about the first of the year.

The raffle for a watch, which took place at the Union Hotel Sunday afternoon, was won by John Valente, who rattled out 42 from the dice box.

G. Mascioroni boarded the train at Sears' Point Saturday en route to San Francisco where he is still under the care of the doctors. He recently submitted to an operation in that city and in consequence is very much improved in health. Mr. Mascioroni's trouble is the old wound received in a mowing machine accident several years ago and which nearly cost him his life.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not do without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." MISS ADA DOTY, Sidney, Iowa.

A VICIOUS BUCK ON THE RAMPAGE.

Attacks Peter Hein and Takes Possession of the Sonoma Drawbridge.

Peter Hein, the Sonoma drawbridge tender of the California Northwestern Railway, met with an exciting adventure on Friday of last week. He had started for the middle of the bridge, which is planked its entire length, to raise the draw for the schooner Four Sisters which was coming down the stream loaded with hay en route to San Francisco, and his surprise knew no bounds when he discovered a large four-pointer buck in the center of the bridge. Before Mr. Hein had time to recover from his astonishment the animal lowered its big antlers and made a rush for him. Mr. Hein sought safety in flight and jumping into a rowboat moored to the bridge was soon beyond reach of the pursuing buck.

Leaving the enraged animal in possession of the bridge Mr. Hein headed his boat toward the Jones ranch house, about a mile distant, to secure the necessary help to get possession of his bridge. He dare not shoot the animal, as it had a collar and bell attached to its neck and was evidently private property, and even though it was not, wasn't the season for killing deer closed? No wonder Pete was in a quandary and at a loss to know what to do.

In the meantime the owner of the big buck, Victor Sartori of Fairville, discovered that the animal had broken out of its enclosure and started in pursuit, fearing that it might meet and kill some one on the road. He was met a short distance from the bridge and informed of the deer's presence. The animal, which had been raised and tamed by Mr. Sartori, as soon as it saw its master meekly allowed him to approach. He attached a rope to its collar and lead it back to his ranch.

The buck, which is very ugly and dangerous at times, has already attacked two men on the Sartori ranch, cutting the face of one of them into ribbons with its fore paws and nearly killing him.

Condemnation Suit Decree

The Central California Gas and Electric Company, which has been having considerable difficulty in securing a right of way over the lands of several obstructing landowners near Petaluma, will now be enabled to go ahead with its enterprise without let or hindrance. Judge Burnett, before whom condemnation proceedings were commenced some months ago, on Monday last signed the decree which permits the electric company to go ahead with its work. Among other things the decree says:

"Now, therefore, it is ordered, adjudged and decreed, that the plaintiff have judgment of condemnation as prayed for in its complaint to enter the premises of the defendants for the purpose of construction and maintenance of its pole line for the transmission of electricity for the purpose set forth in said complaint, and that plaintiff be let into possession of said premises upon the payment to the defendants, or into court in their behalf, the sum of $612, and that defendants recover their costs in this action."

The electric power company has also petitioned the court to be allowed to enter the premises and construct the pole line, despite the fact that it is dissatisfied with the verdict of damages awarded by a jury and has moved for a new trial, and that upon the hearing of the petition they be permitted to pay into court a sum adequate for all damages which may be sustained by the defendants. The court is asked to stay all proceedings and Judge Burnett has set next Monday as the time for hearing the petition.

About Some Former Sonoma People.

Albert Kerner is back from Shasta county after an absence of several months. He has been at work in a big copper mine near De La Mar, and may return there with his family.

During his absence he met several ex-residents of this place. Harry Knight is clerking in a big store in Keswick and is prospering. A. A. Enke, formerly proprietor of the Union Hotel here, is married (now what do you think of that, girls) and has a drug store in the same place. Mr. and Mrs. Eph Cutter are living in De La Mar, Mr. Cutter being employed by the big copper mining company as a carpenter.

CHARGE NOT SUSTAINED.

Outcome of an Arrest for Obtaining Money on False Pretenses.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan on Tuesday last arrested Paul Perasso in San Francisco on a warrant sworn to by Pete Basaglia, who charged him with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Basaglia claimed that last June Perasso sold him a half-interest in the "Dew-Drop-Inn" Saloon for $35 but the interest was never turned over to him. Shortly after the transaction Perasso left for San Francisco where he was located by the officer who was given the warrant of arrest some time ago.

Upon his arrival in town Tuesday night Perasso was admitted to bail to answer the charge before Judge Small the following morning, F. T. Duhring and Ranald McDonell being the sureties. When the case was called Wednesday young Perasso, testifying in his own behalf, swore that he received the $35 all right and had turned it over to another party interested in the saloon.

Basaglia claimed the $35 paid to Perasso was for an interest in the saloon, but the goods were never delivered.

The whole business was a badly mixed up affair and would have puzzled a Philadelphia lawyer to untangle. As no criminal intent was proven on the part of the accused he was discharged from custody.

In Defense of the Doctors.

EDITOR INDEX-TRIBUNE:

It has come to my ears that a few people are trying to "down" the establishment of a Board of Health in our town by slandering the good names of each and all of our physicians. They have raised the cry that "no doctor will go on the Board because he is afraid he will make enemies." Now, this is a shame! I don't believe for one moment that any one of our physicians are men of such small calibre—such narrow minds.

Just think for a moment what such reasoning would lead to. To begin with, all physicians in the present age of the world, if they are fitted to hold their license by education, conscience or common sense—and who wants to employ a doctor who isn't?—understands well the modern requirements of sanitation necessary to guard against malaria, typhoid, diphtheria, and all sorts of miasmatic diseases.

Now, let us suppose that Mr. Blank's little child is taken very sick; in a few hours a pronounced case of diphtheria has developed. In dread alarm he sends for Dr. X, who by the way, refused to be appointed on the Board of Health because he knew he would have to tell this same Mr. B. that he was maintaining a nuisance on his premises. Dr. X comes in, tries to allay the parents' fears, gives the child the very best care he or perhaps any other doctor could possibly give, yet after a few hours the little sufferer closes its eyes and the terrible struggle ends, and the parents' have left to them the memory of that agony and of their darling little form cold and still in its casket. They also have left to them their good, kind; selfish doctor and their cesspool.

Now, suppose all this hadn't happened. That instead of refusing to go on the Board of Health, Dr. X had accepted the disagreeable duty, never thinking of his own pocket, but full of an honest resolution to do all he could to make his town clean and pure, and to keep his friends in as healthy a condition as he knew how. So he goes with the Board to Mr. Blank and tells him frankly of the grave danger lurking in his cesspool and directs that it be closed up. It is done, and Mr. Blank keeps his child.

Which picture do you like best?

And here comes in another point. I don't believe Mr. Blank would be such an ignorant fool as to get angry at the Board of Health and throw overboard his old doctor.

I refuse to believe that our good people of Sonoma are so antiquated in their knowledge of what is necessary to preserve the health of their children and to keep their town abreast of the times; or, that our doctors are such blood-thirsty individuals as to be willing to sacrifice the life of any little child for the sake of their fee.

Good people, wake up! Face the music, and be willing to put your premises in a clean, healthful condition. It will enhance the value and good name of our entire town and be money in your pockets. Don't get angry at any Board of Health for opening your eyes to some danger point near you, but instead gratefully say, "Thank you," whether to "doctor, lawyer, merchant or chief." CITIZEN.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

...TIONS FROM GRAIN.

H. H. GRA...

...d Malt Used in the Manufacture of Candy.

...manufacturing plant in New Jer...cy, formerly used as a manilla paper mill, is now operated by a corporation engaged in the unique industry of making confections from wheat and malt, about the last materials in the world one would expect to find in candy.

In the earlier stages of the process the grain is fanned, ground and mixed in proper proportions. Then it is cooked to a mash, from which a thin sirup is squeezed by hydraulic presses and conducted to a great iron evaporator. Thence the sirup is carried in pipes to a vacuum pan. Here it is vigorously stirred and further evaporated. The thickened sirup is drawn off into huge, shallow tin pans, where it is cooled and hardened. Plain or flavored with peppermint, the mass is a rich golden brown in color. Combined with chocolate it is dark as the familiar caramel in the candy shops.

When a batch of goods is needed for the market, the stock in the pans is broken into pieces and put into a boiler surrounded by a steam jacket. It is reduced by heat to the consistency of taffy at an old fashioned candy pull. Skilled workmen shape the mass into long strips that lie like golden snakes on a board table.

They are fed to a cutting machine, a noisy little monster with an insatiable appetite for sweets. You could almost cover the machine with a hat, yet it turns out malt creamlets nearly as fast as a Maxim gun hurls a storm of bullets. The boys who carry the creamlets from the machine to the tables where they are wrapped have little time for meditation.—Chautauqua Herald.

EDITOR STOREY'S NOTION.

Theory on Which He Remitted a Fine and Raised a Salary.

"I was slashing copy on old Storey's Chicago Times many years ago," said one of the guests at a reunion dinner. "We had a correspondent in an Illinois town who simply would not schedule his matter, but as he generally sent good stuff we let him run on, slashing his stuff to suit the exigencies of the night. Besides, his stuff always suggested good headlines, and that was one of Storey's hobbies.

"On one occasion the correspondent sent up about 700 words which went into 100, with nothing over. On the 100 words I constructed a headline which was right up to the mark. The next day I was instructed to tell the man who made out the checks for the country correspondents to knock $5 off the correspondent's pay.

"When he received his check, he wrote to Mr. Storey saying that under ordinary circumstances he wouldn't kick about the deduction, but in this particular instance he did because the fool headline over the item made by a fool telegraph editor had infuriated the man whose name was mentioned in the dispatch and brought on a fight between him and the correspondent, the result of which was that the correspondent was fined $5 in the police court.

"Mr. Storey was a very just man when you got at him the right way. He instructed the cashier to send the correspondent the amount of the fine and raised my salary because the headline I wrote had caused a row. That was his way of encouraging a headline writer."—New York Sun.

Cities Without Slums.

Berlin has none of the horrible areas which disgrace London and so many other English towns. Even in the poorest quarters the dwellings are good, the streets well paved, clean and comparatively wide. It also has no slums in the English sense of the word. Kioto, in Japan, and Sevastopol, in Russia, both boast an absence of slums and paupers. In England the largest manufacturing town which is free from this reproach is probably Huddersfield, and after that would come Leamington Spa and London by the Sea.—Pearson's Weekly.

There They Were.

"I am here, gentlemen," explained the pickpocket to his fellow prisoners, "as the result of a moment of abstraction." "And I am here," said the incendiary, "because of an unfortunate habit of making light of things." "And I," said the forger, "on account of a simple desire to make a name for myself." "And I," added the burglar, "through nothing but taking advantage of an opening which offered in a large mercantile establishment in town."—Kansas City Independent.

Sleeping Rooms.

In all sleeping apartments where carpet is used, in the interest of health, an uncovered painted margin should entirely surround the room so as to prevent the accumulation of dust, possibly containing dangerous microbes in the cracks. If this border is regularly washed with water containing a disinfectant, it will also aid materially in purifying the room.

Not Overelated.

"I suppose," said the effusive lady who was visiting the Meektons, "that your wife is sure that she has the best husband that ever lived."

"Yes," answered Meekton, with something like a sigh. "But at the same time I don't believe she thinks that is saying much for me."—Washington Star.

Advice From Way Up.

"Understand me," said the balloon to the parachute, "I wouldn't for the world encourage drinking habits in the young and innocent, but at the same time I don't think a drop would hurt you in the least."

Whereupon the parachute dropped.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Something New Under the Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure CATARRH by the use of powders, acid, gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucuous membranes, causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of CATARRH, has at last perfected a Treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently curres CATARRH, by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "SNUFFLES the GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE" and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use.

"SNUFFLES" is the only perfect CATARRH CURE ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve HAY FEVER or COLD in the HEAD.

CATARRH when neglected often leads to CONSUMPTION—"SNUFFLES" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure CATARRH in any form or stage if used according to directions which acompany each package. Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "SNUFFLES" the "GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE.

Jumped on Ten Penny Nail.

The little daughter of J. N. Powell jumped on an inverted rake made of ten-penny nails, and thrust one entirely through her foot and a second one half-way through. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was promptly applied and five minutes later the pain had disappeared and no more suffering was experienced. In three days the child was wearing her shoe as usual and with absolutely no discomfort. Mr. Powell is a well-known merchant of Forkland, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and heals such injuries without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by F. Duhring. *

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c. size; Trial size by mail, 10 cents. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment.
